It is widely known our world is often being compared with a mirrow. Can a parrot tell something smart about it? Why not, if it has grown up in the smart woods...

*So listen to the story, my dear friend!
I want to tell you that our world
is a great mirror.*

*This mirror reflects, or it is better
to say returns, all our deeds,
thoughts and feelings.*

*And here matters
nothing our age...*

sex or anything else.

*The mirror law is universal.
It works slowly and reliably
like a good old mill.*

There's no
reason to try
to avoid it.
Better
to comply.

Now let us
talk how it works. For instance,
if we steal
something
during
our life...

...later definitely someone
else steals from us.

*If we take away
something
from
others...*

...we will
swell from greediness.

And if sometimes
we like to “fight” others...

*...for sure we'll face
a superior rival one day.
Similar rule works in all things.*

Of course, we can ignore this rule or turn our back on it.

Or even try to build our own rules on this Earth.

*But the end
of such buildings
is always the same...*

Human life is a long complex route.
However it consists of many little everyday paths.

And if we choose the right direction at every path...

*...reflection in our mirror
will definitely please us.*

But if we deliberately choose dangerous and wrong paths...

*...end of way should not be
a surprise for us.*

Surprisingly, but when we go
our way through life
correctly with due diligence...

...we start to choose between beautiful and magnificent,
rather than good and bad.

*If we learn this simple rule,
we can fly in our life
fine and beautiful.*

*...or can just waste our time
in senseless thoughts...*

*...or even
hide
yourself
from it all...*

But our success depends only on our efforts.

*That's how the mirror works:
it reflects everything
with no deviations.*

*That's the whole story,
my dear friend. I wish
you success on your way,
and always be happy...*

...with the most beautiful
reflections!
