

A close-up photograph of a koala clinging to a thick, reddish-brown tree branch. The koala is covered in grey, woolly fur and has a large, dark, leathery nose. It is holding a piece of eucalyptus bark in its mouth and appears to be eating. The background is filled with vibrant green eucalyptus leaves. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

Igor Bondar
George Czaus

Where
do we lose
our joy?

Igor Bondar
George Czaus

*Where
do we lose
our joy?*

“Zolotoye sechenie“
private publishers
2 0 1 5

How do we find joy in this life and where do we lose it?

A detailed humorous photo-answer to this question is contained in this little story.

Photo by George Czaus & Igor Bondar.

„Zolotoye sechenie“ private publishers.

Copyright © Igor Bondar, 2015

Copyright © George Czaus, 2015

Copyright © Design: „Zolotoye sechenie“, 2015

Everyone likes being happy and joyful.

*However,
there are times in our life
when we feel a little different...*

Why is that? How can we stay in a good mood all the time?

Or, perhaps, a better question is how not to lose our joy?

So, let's look back and while being honest with yourself, try to remember the situations where light usually disappears from our lives. We will need to be completely sincere -...

*...this road will lead us
nowhere without sincerity.*

So, we certainly lose our joyfulness each time we turn our bu... oh, I mean our backs on each other!

When we do some unpleasant pranks,

...or deprive others of their freedom.

Joy will abandon us when we look at somebody with suspicion or get angry.

*We feel sad
each time
we deceive
somebody,*

*...or lose
our sense of
enough,*

*...or, when we exchange
our beautiful dreams for...*

...some cheap imitations.

*Of course, at times like that we might think that we are fine but...
it's often
better to ask
others what we really look like.*

If we agree with that, then we will have a good chance of escaping that joyless hole...

*...towards
light
and love.*

*To start, we should first open our eyes
and gradually begin to deal with all these things.*

So, if in this life we try to always be kind to the big,

*...and
the small,*

*...if we try with all our
might, not to envy others,*

*...If we don't judge nobody
for an "incorrect"
lifestyle.*

*...if we don't miss the chance
to spend some time in nature,
riding a wave,*

...or at least running from it,

...if we do something interesting in our life (and it doesn't matter if nobody understands what is it),

*...or simply to take
photos of grasshoppers,*

*...if we never forget
to notice beauty,*

...which surrounds us all the time,

*...then joy will never be absent
from our lives.*

FREE BOOKS DOWNLOAD
www.bookfaceyourself.com

Igor Bondar
George Czaus

Where do we lose our joy?

*How do we find joy in this life
and where do we lose it?*

*A detailed humorous photo-
answer to this question is contained in this little story.*

www.bookfaceyourself.com

978-5-904 20-9

785 04 020958 >