The underwater world has its own news as well.
This funny photo-story shows how it looks in the manner we are used to.

*Good afternoon! Welcome to the program “Underwater news”!
I’m its all-time presenter Sharky Boom.*

As usual, let's start with the political news. The President of Our Seas moved to Their seas to visit the congress of vegetarians – he likes them very much.

Some disputes this week has arisen between sharks...

*These gluttons again
couldn't share the sardines.*

The sharks insist they should get 20 percent more food.

Quick reminder that the previous year the same dispute ended when a part of barracudas was eaten and the parties reached a consensus.

Public safety. Yesterday our frontier whale swam at one meter from the alien's ship, demonstrating our lack of fear of them.

*Some pleasing news from the reefs.
Another muraena has changed its sex upon reaching the age of two.*

*The future
mother was enjoying her
new interesting
capabilities
for a week.*

Celebrity news. After almost three-day separation, a celebrity couple of clownfish – Ne and Mo came together. The joy of their fans knows no bounds.

Cultural news. The 72nd part of the “War of Atolls” saga by the great Joe Turtin premiered. Soon, moviegoers of the reef will see its movie adaptation.

Fashion News. The annual fashion show took place at the Vogue reef.

*This season new bold colors
were presented...*

The latest make-up from Oceanel was also shown.

*As usual, at the end of the fashion show
there was a traditional two-day party.*

Now to sports news. Our sea-ball team snatched a surprising victory at the tournament.

As the coach explained, this year the tactics of muddling water at the opponent's gates was quite successful.

*News of agriculture.
Due to the
severe weather
conditions in the northern seas, the harvest of
luminaria...*

*...and the Choku-boku
mushrooms is considerably
lower than the previous year.*

Crime news. Yesterday one reef grouper was gripped between the stones by an unknown bubbly. Personal courage and remarkable speed helped the guy to avoid problems.

*Healthcare. Professor Hammer from the Galapagos Seas after multi-year research
found out that...*

*...octopuses'
smoking is significantly
changing
their taste.*

*Now a short commercial break.
Fresh products without nitrates and carcinogens have come in the North Seas.*

Real gourmets have already arrived there.

In the prestigious atoll's area two-bedroom premium caves went on sale. Early buyers get designer refurbishment as a bonus.

At the end, as usual, weather-forecast. After the season of plankton, the season of jellyfish came to our reef. It seems that the world's climate change affects us more and more.

*That is all. I, Sharky Boom, was here together with you.
Ciao!*
