*Good afternoon! This is Sky Birds
News and its
presenter, Blue Wing.*

First, let's start with some political news. In the western seas, the elections of the new Speaker of Parliament have just ended. After a week-long of nonstop debate, everyone got tired and decided to keep the former Speaker.

In some coastal areas, rallies took place yesterday. The main demand of the birds at this time is the transition to wired Internet.

On major events. The great guru Light Four-Winged has arrived to our capital.

He's going to conduct his famous courses on meditation here...

... and self-contemplation.

In the food sector... This year, the harvest of worms has pleased everyone,

... but things are worse with sardines.

This time, our birds have to dive deep to get some food.

In science, our scientists from the southern seas are studying a black piece of iron to increase the speed of swimming.

*And scientists of
the northern seas haven't
figured out
yet how to climb up
the tower to broaden their horizons.*

About sport. Pelicans took the first and second place at the World Figure Piloting Championships.

*The next rounds of the competition are sky
biathlon with bombing,*

*... and nest
mountaineering.*

Crime news. Yesterday, some hooligans stuck the tails of two honest penguins together.

The law-abiding seagull who saw this immediately reported it to the relevant authorities.

*In culture. A new book,
"One plus Three",
written by the great Parroty
Redetino
has come out.*

This thriller is about four friends who earn their living by stealing chips. In this movie, one of the birds wittily softens the tourists up, and then other birds come in swarms.

This year, the Greenies Award on the green carpet was given to Wai Zet for his single “Fly Out of Here”.

Fans of the singer celebrated this event all day.

Art Industry News. The annual exhibition of sculptures has finished. First place was taken by the artwork titled “Small ones are more important than big ones”.

Second place went to a sculpture with an unusual name: “Guess the color of our chick”.

Fashion News. According to designers, bright and pompous shapes and colors are gradually falling from grace among birds.

Practical single-colored style comes into fashion.

And as for bodies: the thinner, the better.

In conclusion, top scandal. At the wedding ceremony, Count Pengvus didn't answer the question of his bride: "Will you stay with me in hunger and cold?"

Journalists believe that the reason for this lies in the dirty dances, at which the bride has been recently noticed.

That's all for now. As a follow-up to our program, see the popular talk show "Guess what I'm hiding?"

We'll see you in an hour. Ciao!
